

I support the strict laws. I find it very intrusive for telemarketers to call my home. It is disruptive, especially when you have to say "no" several times before you are forced to hang up on the callers. I enjoy my family time and this definitely cuts into that.